PREFACE

THIS, the Thirty-second annual issue of American Book-Prices Current, like its immediate predecessor, offers material greater in volume by about ten per cent than heretofore. The problem of covering the present market without increasing the bulk of the volume has been met by the use of the reference index to sales indicated below and by the use of abbreviations commonly recognized but not employed before in this publication.

Many new titles will be found and many record prices. It is not possible in the space of a preface to enter into prices comprehensively, since various conditions affect values and we can only call attention here to items which seem to us interesting, asking that any physical or bibliographic features not representative be sought in succeeding pages, where it is the province of this work to give information necessary for comparison.

Autographic material forms a distinctive feature of the present record. This has been of such great recent interest in the class of rare literature that considerable space has been given to it. To meet the condition forcing it from last year's report, the present issue, as indicated on the title-page, will be found to include a record of the sales of manuscripts of the season of 1924-1925 as well as those of 1925-1926.

Mention may be made here of the contribution of the season of 1924-1925 to autograph matter through the W. H. Arnold Collection, including a number of Keats items at prices ranging from $1300 to $3000, others by R. L. Stevenson at $1500-$10,000, a Burns manuscript at $2050, an A. L. S. of Poe at $1750, and one of Jonas Michaelius to the Dutch proprietors of Manhattan at $3600; also of Books of Hours from the Chew Collection at $1100-$4750, illuminations from the Sturdivant collection at $1350 and $1500 and from the McAlenney collection at $3200 and $4100; and, through sales producing George Washington letters at $2400 and $3100, a document signed by Penn and others, at $2400 and a Lincoln letter at $3200.

The outstanding sales of the season of 1925-1926 were those of the Melk Monastery copy of the Gutenberg Bible at $106,000, the Elizabethan and Early Stuart Library of John L. Clawson, the autograph collections of Colonel James H. Manning and the R. B. Adam Library of English Literature.

The sale of the Clawson Library of 926 items realized $642,687.50, the largest total return ever made in our market except that from the Hoe sale. Some 155 items were purchased at $1000 and more, 70 at $2000, 41 at $3000, 20 at $4000 and 11 at $5000.

In the last class Milton's Comus (1637) brought $21,500, Gower's Confessio Amantis (1483), $20,000; the Shephearde's Calendar (1579), $17,700; Painter's Palace of Pleasure (1566-67), $16,000; Much Ado About Nothing (1600), $21,000; and among pseudo-Shakespearean works, Lochrine (1595) sold at $9000; Fidele and Fortunio (1585), $6250; Thersytes (1550), $5000; and Sir John Oldcastle (1600), $5000.

Of the two divisions of the Manning sale, the first, consisting of American autographs, was signalized by its collection of autographs of signers of the Declaration of Independence, which sold at more than $46,000, nearly doubling the record price obtained in 1924, the "Danforth" autograph of Button Gwinnett leading at $22,500, one of McKean selling at $3000, one of Lynch at $2000, one of Rodney at $1800, and others at $450-$1050.

Certain of these prices were exceeded in the sale of the Library of Dr. G. C. F. Williams, when a Lynch autograph brought $5200, one of Middleton, $2700, Dr. Williams' collection of "Signers'" signatures bringing $37,688.50, with Gwinnett items at $10,500 and $19,000. Two manuscripts of R. L. Stevenson in this collection brought $2000 each.

The Adam collection produced a price of more than $282 per lot, Milton's Comus (1637) selling at $11,500, copies of his Poems, 1645 edition, $2700 and $3700; Lycidas (1638), $5900; Paradise Lost (1667), $10,000. Shakespeare's Poems (1640) sold at $5300; Homer. Opera (1488), at $4200. The Faerie Queen (1590-96) brought $3900; the Shephearde's Calendar (1586), $1575; the Vicar of Wakefield (1766), $1600; Lucasta and Posthume (1649-59), $1400; the Rich Jew of Malta (1633), $1300; the Ovid Epistles (1567), $1150; Herbert's Temple (1633), $1025; the Endymion (1818), $1010, and Montaigne's Essays (Florio's translation, 1603), $1000; a Garrick manuscript, $1900 and a Lamb A. L. S., $1700.

At the sale of Mr. George Barr McCutcheon's collection of First Editions of Dickens and Thackeray, a copy of the Pickwick Papers brought $7000; a Battle of Life, $1975; Mrs. Gamp, $1800; the Cricket on the Hearth, $1450; and Great Expectations, $1025. Vanity Fair in original parts was sold at $2425.

Other sales of note included that of the Kipling collection on December 15, 1925, an unusual if not unique occasion, when a wide range of rare material represented the works of a single author at a sale of a single session. At the sale of First Editions of Byron and Dickens on December 8, 1925, a Dickens-Collins manuscript, Perils of Certain English Prisoners, appeared at $3900 and Goldsmith's Traveller (1764), at $1000; collections of S. and A. L. Bernheim and Perceval M. Barker, produced a copy of Robinson Crusoe (1719) at $3525, Gray's Elegy (1751) at $3300, Fitzgerald's translation of the Rubaiyat (1859) at $1700, Hawthorne's Wedding Knell in manuscript at $1260, and Montaigne's Essaies (1603) at $950.

Books and autographs from the collections of A. R. Turner and Charles A. Munn, included a copy of the Bradford Map at $7600 and The Federalist at $750, an A. L. S. of Count Rochambeau to Nathanael Greene with Greene's reply at $4900, a Thomas Lynch signature at $1800, an A. D. S. of Benjamin Franklin at $2500, one of Benedict Arnold at $3900, and, among the manuscripts, a copy of New York Laws dated 1694 at $1800, a Salem witchcraft confession at $1050, and the original Indian deed to the site of Exeter, N. H. at $3050.

Outstanding incidents occurred in the sale of the Shakespeare Second Folio at $3150 from the collection of Mr. Edward Appleyard; of Kipling's Echoes (1884) at $1600, a run of the Sporting Magazine, 1792-1870, at $1125, 8 leaves of the Wells Gutenberg Bible at $1750, and the Spider and the Flie (1556) at $950 at the H. M. Standish sale; of Bret Harte items in the Kozlay collection, a first edition of M'liss with an A. L. S. selling at $1110; and of Shelley's Adonais (1821) at $2625 and Herrick's Hesperides (1648) at $1150 at the Drinkwater-King sale. Historic manuscript material included items of Thomas Paine at $3100, of R. L. Stevenson at $5000, Benjamin Franklin, $2900, and Andrew Jackson at $1475.

As this volume may come into the hands of some persons not familiar with the publication, the following explanation of its scheme is reprinted from earlier issues:

The name of the author (or, in the case of anonymous books, the first part of the title) is set in black-faced capitals.

As a rule, Club and Press publications are listed under the name of the Club or Press, and a few other books, such as anonymous histories and biographies, are given subject entries. The titles of various works of an author, printed in black-faced lower case type, are arranged in alphabetical order. This is followed by the imprint—place, printer (in a few cases), date—and size of volume. The first portion of the description is general and applies to all copies of the work listed. Following this is the specific description of the copy or copies of the book as sold, each lot beginning a new line. The specific description is made up as follows:

First: A description of the binding, the abbreviations being those which are universally used and understood.

Second: A statement as to the condition of the particular copy recorded—if on large paper, with extra plates inserted, from a famous library, etc.

Third: Capital (key) letter, referring to the Chronological List of Sales at the beginning of the volume and indicating the name and date of the sale. In the section devoted to Autographs and Manuscripts, items sold during the season of 1924-1925, have this letter in black or bold faced type.

Fourth. The lot number of the original sale catalogue.

Fifth: The price realized. This is the price per lot, not per volume.

INDEX TO AMERICAN BOOK - PRICES CURRENT

1916 THROUGH 1922

THIS INDEX for seven years of sales has been compiled with the same care as the annual volumes of AMERICAN BOOK-PRICES CURRENT and with the same clear and convenient arrangement.

The INDEX shows at a glance whether the book in which you are interested has been sold in recent years, and it will guide you to the volume and page where a complete description and price may be found.

Our Service Without Additional Charge:

If you possess the INDEX but not a complete file of the volume of AMERICAN BOOK-PRICES CURRENT, and the item in which you are interested is described in a missing volume, write to the publishers, E. P. DUTTON & COMPANY, and the information you seek will be furnished promptly.

If the title you seek is so rare as not to have been sold during the period covered by the INDEX and therefore not listed, a request for information addressed to the publisher will bring all available data.

ANNUAL VOLUMES OF THE AMERICAN BOOK - PRICES CURRENT

This authentic annual of American auction records of Books, Manuscripts and Autographs is now in its thirty-second year of publication. Only a limited number of copies are printed.

Now that the sales in each season amount to close to 100,000 items, to select about 14,000, as representative, is a terrific task, and requires great skill in editing. Subscriptions may be received at all times, and, unless we are advised to the contrary, purchasers are made annual subscribers automatically.

It will be found to be of the utmost value to bibliophiles, second-hand and rare book dealers, for while it does not purpose to be a bibliography it clearly indicates the action, change and vitality of the rare book market.

The recognized authority. Absolutely authentic.

Back Numbers:

We endeavor to keep in stock a complete file of the back numbers and, while most of them are practically out of print, we have a few copies of each issue and shall be glad to quote prices on request.
